

C O N T E N T S

Preface ix
To the Student xv

PART I Getting Started 1

1

INTRODUCTION 3

Chapter Preview 3

WHAT IS INVESTIGATIVE REPORTING?	4
CHARACTERISTICS OF INVESTIGATIVE STORIES	5
They go beyond the basic facts	6
They are analytical	6
They need to be uncovered	6
They take time	6
They explore big issues	7
They aim to spur action or change	7
WHO IS AN INVESTIGATIVE REPORTER?	8
Investigative reporters are truth seekers	8
Investigative reporters are curious	10
Investigative reporters are persistent	10
Investigative reporters are scientists	10
Investigative reporters are storytellers	11
INVESTIGATIVE REPORTING IS THRIVING	11
Investigative reporting in the Internet world	12
Investigative reporting can make a career thrive	13
CONCLUSION	14
Exercise	14
The Big Story Project, Step 1	15
Notes	15

2

FINDING THE STORY 17

Chapter Preview 17

HOW TO FIND STORY IDEAS	18
-------------------------	----

Begin with a small idea	18
Follow up on tips	19
Pay attention to gossip	20
BOX 2.1 What can happen when you follow a tip	21
Be observant in everyday situations	22
Scan the briefs	23
Spot the widespread problem in the daily story	24
Find the interesting in the mundane	24
Replicate an investigation done elsewhere	25
Read the fine print and footnotes	25
Look for similarities in seemingly unrelated events	27
Work back from a problem to its cause	27
FINDING INVESTIGATIVE STORIES ON YOUR CAMPUS	27
CONCLUSION	29
Exercises	29
The Big Story Project, Step 2	30
Notes	30

3

SETTING UP THE INVESTIGATION 31

Chapter Preview 31

SETTING THE COURSE FOR RESEARCH: THE STORY PREMISE	32
A PRELIMINARY RESEARCH PLAN	34
The people	34
The questions	35
The terminology	35
The data	35
The subtopics	36
The tangents	36
THE BASICS OF BACKGROUND RESEARCH	37
Keep the news angle in mind	37
Think narrow to broad	37
Keep the background information organized	39
WHERE TO START LOOKING	40

ELEMENTS OF A MULTIMEDIA STORY PACKAGE	101
Illustrating the “What”	101
Illustrating the “Who”	103
Illustrating the “Where”	104
Illustrating the “When”	104
Illustrating the “How” and the “Why”	105
Presenting key data tables, charts and lists	109
VISUALIZING HOW THE PIECES WILL FIT	110
CONCLUSION	112
Exercises	113
The Big Story Project, Step 5	113
Notes	116

PART II Gathering Information 117

6

THE INTERVIEW PROCESS	119
Chapter Preview	119
THE MYTH OF THE KILLER INTERVIEW	120
DEVELOPING SOURCES	120
Connect with people	121
Keep your contacts discreet and professional	122
DEVELOPING AN INTERVIEW SYSTEM	122
The 5Ws System	123
The inductive approach	124
BOX 6.1 Finding and contacting experts	125
SETTING UP THE INTERVIEW	126
When sources won’t get back to you	127
Which type of interview?	128
PREPARING FOR THE INTERVIEW	130
Building background	130
Preparing primary questions	130
Be ready for tough situations	131
INVESTIGATIVE INTERVIEWING TECHNIQUES	134
Controlling the interview	134
Getting people to talk	135
Collecting anecdotes	138
Listening closely	139
Follow up questions	141

BOX 6.2 Finding the unspoken story in an interview	142
Asking the tough questions	143
Interviewing survivors and victims	143
Documenting the interview	144
BOX 6.3 Tips for working with survivors and victims	144
AFTER THE INTERVIEW	146
BOX 6.4 Creating hyperlinks	148
BOX 6.5 How to format a spreadsheet for an investigative story	150
CONCLUSION	150
Exercises	150
The Big Story Project, Step 6	151
Notes	152

7

ANALYZING THE BIG STORY 153

Chapter Preview	153
ANALYZING A SAMPLE STORY	154
A TRAGIC VULNERABILITY	155
BIG STORY COMPONENTS	167
Something important is at stake	167
The problem affects people	167
The story uncovers information that is not widely known	168
The story identifies the cause of the problem	169
The story identifies possible solutions and obstacles to those solutions	170
The evidence backs up the case	170
The story provides context	170
CONCLUSION	173
Exercises	173
The Big Story Project, Step 7	174
Notes	174

8

DOCUMENTING THE STORY 175

Chapter Preview	175
DOCUMENTATION IN THE DIGITAL AGE	176
THE NEED TO NAIL DOWN THE STORY	176

Know what you need	177
Know what a document can do for you	179
DOCUMENTS THAT ARE AVAILABLE ONLINE	181
The Federal Register	181
Congressional testimony	184
State documents	187
Environmental Impact Reports	187
Corporate records	188
Charitable organizations	193
BOX 8.1 Brent Schrotenboer's look into the "nonprofit" college bowl system	194
DOCUMENTS THAT ARE FOUND OFFLINE	195
OBTAINING DOCUMENTS FROM INDIRECT SOURCES	196
DOUBT THE DOCUMENTS	197
BOX 8.2 Document authenticity checklist	198
CONCLUSION	199
Exercises	199
The Big Story Project, Step 8	200
Notes	201

9

FINDING AND USING DATA 203

Chapter Preview	203
GETTING COMFORTABLE WITH NUMBERS	204
Numbers can make a story stand out	204
BOX 9.1 How the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle researched the "Potent Pills" story	205
Numbers can't stand alone	206
COLLECTING DATA	207
Brainstorm what you will need	208
Locating data	208
Know your rights to data	212
Negotiating for data	213
USING THE DATA YOU HAVE	213
BOX 9.2 Ziva Branstetter's steps to finding and obtaining data	214
What to consider when building your own database	216
Setting up your database	216

What to do with data	218
Think outside the cell	220
CONCLUSION	222
Exercises	223
The Big Story Project, Step 9	223
Notes	224

PART IIIWriting and Publishing the Story 225

10

SHAPING THE STORY 227

Chapter Preview	227
ORGANIZING YOUR NOTES	228
Cleaning up the mess	228
THE STORY OUTLINE	231
When to outline	232
What to use	232
How to outline	232
USING A SPREADSHEET TO OUTLINE YOUR STORY	239
Sorting the findings	240
Ranking the findings to create an outline	243
BOX 10.1 Using the IF function to automatically rank data	244
CONCLUSION	245
Exercises	245
The Big Story Project, Step 10	246

11

WRITING THE STORY 247

Chapter Preview	247
CONQUERING THE BLANK SCREEN	248
THE DRAFTING PROCESS	248
First draft: Making it complete	248
Second draft: Making it clear	250
Third draft: Making it convincing	253

BOX 11.1 Using sets of threes with the Focus Structure	254	LIBEL	277
Fourth draft: Making it compelling	255	BOX 12.3 The four elements of libel	278
BOX 11.2 Rising action in “A Stunning Toll”	256	Know public versus private figures	279
USING STORY ELEMENTS EFFECTIVELY	257	Keep research diverse and thorough	280
Quotes	258	Beware of conspiracy theories	281
Leads and kickers	258	ETHICAL CONSIDERATIONS	281
PREPPING FOR PUBLICATION	260	Always double-check	283
Cut it down to size	260	Keep an objective mind	284
The art of the sidebar	261	Understand and respect the law	284
Boxes and bullets	261	Weigh promises	285
Kill the widows	262	Reveal trade secrets selectively	285
WRITING FOR THE TEAM PROJECT	262	Don’t ambush your targets	286
BOX 11.3 Bob Greene’s method for team writing	263	Source everything	286
VERIFYING THE STORY	263	Give everyone a heads up	287
CONCLUSION	264	Write what you know	287
Exercises	265	CONCLUSION	287
The Big Story Project, Step 11	265	Exercises	288
Notes	266	The Big Story Project, Step 12	288
		Notes	289

12

LEGAL AND ETHICAL CONSIDERATIONS 267

Chapter Preview	267
WHAT YOU ARE UP AGAINST	268
ACCESSING THE COURT SYSTEM	268
Public access	268
BOX 12.1 What you need to know about the public access laws in your state	269
Access to court proceedings	269
Gag orders	271
ACCESSING PRIVATE PLACES AND INFORMATION	271
Reacting to police restrictions	272
Recording phone conversations	272
PROTECTING YOUR SOURCES AND NOTES	273
Shield laws	273
BOX 12.2 A legal brief on invasion of privacy Law from the Student Press Law Center	274
Subpoenas	276
Search warrants	277

13

ADVANCED REPORTING METHODS 291

Chapter Preview	291
INVESTIGATING A CLOSED INSTITUTION	292
A map	292
A key	294
INVESTIGATING AN INDIVIDUAL	296
INVESTIGATING A CONSPIRACY	297
ALTERNATIVE INVESTIGATIVE TECHNIQUES	297
Undercover reporting	298
BOX 13.1 An excerpt from Nellie Bly’s “Ten Days in a Mad House”	299
Submersion journalism	300
Distributed reporting	301
The running investigation	302
Crowdsourcing	303
COMPUTER-ASSISTED REPORTING	305
Social networking analysis	306
Data scraping	307

Mapping	308
BOX 13.2 An excerpt from Hank Sims' "Humboldt at War: Local military contractors feed and clothe soldiers, keep birds and bats safe"	309
ADVANCED METHODS FOR KEEPING INFORMATION
SECURE	310
CONCLUSION	314
Exercises	314
The Big Story Project , Step 13	315
Notes	315

14

PITCHING THE STORY 317

Chapter Preview	317
KNOW WHAT EDITORS WANT 318
Start with the story's focus	318
Outline the entire project	318
Tell why readers, viewers or listeners will care	319
Point out the news angle	319
Explain the methodology	320
Prove you can prove it	320
BOX 14.1 A "nerd box" from the series "Power Trips" by the Center for Public Integrity	321
Understand the ramifications	323
GETTING THE TIME AND RESOURCES YOU NEED 323
Negotiate for some relief from regular duties	323
Bargain for time off	324
Set a deadline	324
Know what resources you'll need	325
Have a backup plan ready	325
Confront the déjà vu	325

WRITE EVERYTHING UP	326
START EARNING YOUR CREDIBILITY	328
CONCLUSION	328
Exercises	328
The Big Story Project , Step 14	330
Notes	330

APPENDICES 331A Sample Investigative Stories 332

A.1	No Room for Sex Offenders	333
A.2	Running on Borrowed Time	336
A.3	Nobody's Fault	337
A.4	An Army of Anyone	343
A.5	If These Walls Could Talk . . .	348
A.6	A Stunning Toll	352
A.7	Public Payroll, Family Affairs: Aldermen Keep it Relative	359
A.8	Trustees Share the Wealth	362
A.9	DHS Reports Didn't Save 30 Children	364

B The Game Plan Checklist 367C An Excel Cheat Sheet 370

Index	377
-------	-----

Please note: The author and publisher have made every effort to provide current website addresses in this book. However, because web addresses change constantly, it is inevitable that some of the URLs listed here will change following publication of this book.